Emergency services are very busy. You should use the Accident & Emergency (A & E) if you are very unwell or you become very seriously ill (life-threatening).

Make sure Accident & Emergency (A & E) is available when you or your loved ones need it by NOT choosing this service unless you really need it.

For trips, falls, skin complaints and minor injuries, choose Walk-in Health Centre or Minor Injuries Unit or Urgent Care Centre.

The Walk-in Health Centre at Upton Hospital, Slough is open from 8.00am to 8.00pm every day including weekends and bank holidays. You do not need an appointment and you can get advice and treatment for minor illnesses and minor injuries including dressings wounds and stitch removal.

For infections and persistent symptoms or if your child has a high temperature, choose your GP.

Your GP surgery should offer you an appointment on most working days and many now offer extended options.

When your surgery is closed, you can call the Accident & Emergency Service on 0118 936 5390 and get advice or arrange to see you.

For tummy upsets, insect bites and stings, coughs and colds and travel advice, choose a pharmacist.

Visit your local pharmacy for help in treating minor ailments, general health advice and travel health advice. Many pharmacies have private consultation rooms. Pharmacists are trained to treat minor illness and how to tell a minor ailment from something that might be more serious.

For absolutely any questions about your health, choose NHS Direct.

Contact NHS Direct if you are ill and have any questions about your health. NHS Direct can also help you find health services in your area. NHS Direct offers confidential advice and information.

For minor ailments, grazes, bruises and similar problems, choose self-care.

Don’t forget to keep your first-aid kit well stocked - ask your pharmacist for advice or use this handy checklist.

- Paracetamol and aspirin for children under 16
- Paracetamol (such as Calpol) for children
- Mild laxatives to relieve constipation

Think twice before you go to A&E

This leaflet will help you make the right choice when you are ill or have an accident.

There are lots of convenient, effective and safe alternatives to Accident and Emergency (A&E). They are explained in more detail on the other side of this leaflet.

Making the right choice each time you need urgent NHS care helps ensure you and others get the best treatment every time.

A&E is there for you and your loved ones when you become seriously ill or have a life-threatening accident. At other times, think about which of the other NHS services listed here is the right one for you.

We can arrange for this information to be provided in other languages and formats (such as larger print) on request.
